I developed Lymogen™ due to the increased demand for a frequency-matched remedy that would provide the body with the bio-information necessary to facilitate the body's integrity when dealing with all of the various U.S. and European strains of Lyme Borrelia, all the normal Lyme co-infections, as well as varioubsed upon the presence of any antibiotic-like herbs, but upon the complex and synergistic frequencies of the combination of herbs. Keep in mind that when I am speaking of complex frequency spectrum, it should be understood that all medicines, pharmaceutical and natural, broadcast their unique frequencies based upon their specific molecular structure. Even Rife machines are based upon broadcasting frequencies.

Of course it should be understood that there is so much more to restoring health than killing bacteria. Simply broadcasting a cookbook set of frequencies, one frequency at a time or even five or six frequencies at a time, is like saying you can speak French when all you know is, "Bon Jour." To restore the optimum bio-communications of the body, one must broadcast all of the bio-information necessary on all levels.

The incredible range of frequencies found in each of the different herbal combinations in the Lymogen™, Borreligen™, and Microbojen™ combine to answer every question and issue the body might have, in order to create perfect integrity throughout the entire body when challenged by these microbes. Using frequency-matched remedies is like speaking French fluently, using precise grammar and perfect word choice as well. No other formulations in the world are developed from this philosophy.

Borreligen™ has a longer history of clinical experience, but Lymogen™ is exciting because it is incorporating all the advanced understanding I have gained over the last nine years since the first development of Borreligen™. Lymogen™ is a completely unique remedy which, when rotated with Borreligen™, provides an amazing "one-two punch" that is unsurpassed in its promoting of long-term health.
