

Silphitrin™ (Energized Liquid Silphium Laciniatum)

Jernigan Nutraceuticals

Size: 4oz. / 120 mL
Bottle dosage: 1 dropper, 3 times per day
Droppers per bottle: about 140

Silphitrin™ (Silphium laciniatum) has been shown through Bio-Resonance Scanning™ and clinical research to be possibly the greatest anti-neurotoxin substance found to date. Silphitrin™ is thought to breakdown and/or bind microbial neurotoxins. It has demonstrated stellar results in the elimination of the primary toxins released by Borrelia burgdorferi, the causative microbe in Lyme disease, Multiple Sclerosis, ALS and over 350 neurotoxic illnesses. In regard to Lyme microbes, Silphitrin™ also seems to assist in providing the body's crystalline matrix with the information needed to resolve the pleomorphic phase, L-form of the Lyme spirochete. Clinical research reveals that Silphitrin™ may also bind heavy metals, and breakdown isopropyl alcohol, and benzene accumulations, adding to its phenomenal arsenal of beneficial effects. Silphitrin™ is recommended to limit herxheimer reactions during any type of antibiotic, antimicrobial treatments.

Bio-Resonance Scanning has revealed it to be highly beneficial in addressing the accumulation of ammonia in the brain tissue as seen in cirrhosis of the liver, hepatitis, and the local accumulations in the brain as seen in neurological Lyme disease. Silphitrin™ is also beneficial at clearing nitric oxide (NO), the metabolite of ammonia in the musculoskeletal system. Nitric oxide accumulates in the joints and muscles in reaction to Borrelia burgdorferi and other Borrelia strain spirochetes, which release ammonia which is almost instantly converted into nitric oxide. Nitric oxide causes a hyper-inflammatory response in the tissues leading to fibrin accumulation, joint and muscle pain and stiffness, as well as potentially increasing the production of the thick fibrin-coating of tumors.

One of the unique properties of Silphium™ is its molecular structure causes it to grow facing north and south, hence its name "Compass Plant." This polarity orientation is maintained within its molecular structure and may positively influence the human body's crystalline matrix ability to adapt to the ever-changing internal and external environment. In other words, it makes your body more adaptable.

Silphitrin™ has also been shown to normalize blood sugar levels, even in Insulin-dependent individuals, yet it seems to normalize blood sugar without making it too low.

Product Information: Jernigan Nutraceuticals has pioneered all of the present day knowledge of Silphitrin™ and is the only company producing this formula in the world.

Jernigan Nutraceuticals cultivates and processes Silphium in Kansas. The crop is grown in pristine natural prairie soil that has not seen chemical fertilizers, pesticides, or herbicides in recorded history. To further protect the crop and your extract, Jernigan Nutraceuticals grows all of their primary botanicals over two miles from the nearest paved road to avoid exposure to auto exhaust and pollutants. No synthetic solvents are used in the extraction and processing of any of the Jernigan Nutraceutical extracts and formulas. Our liquid silphium is processed within one hour of harvesting to maximize its polar properties and energetic aspects. The fresh, green plant extract tested by a prominent, independent medical doctor, scored an amazing 992 out of a possible 1000 quantum energy score! Jernigan Nutraceuticals has energetically enhanced the extract to yield a perfect score of 1000, making Silphitrin™ one of the world's most energetic and biologically active remedies in history.

Silphitrin™ ingredients: Silphium laciniatum aerial/leaf extract, Crystal Clear™ distilled water and 20% pharmaceutical grade alcohol.

All suggested supplements are our best recommendation and never should be considered a prescription. These statements have not been evaluated by the FDA. The product(s) mentioned on this page are designed to improve the functional performance of the human body, and are not intended to diagnose, treat, cure, or prevent any disease. Always consult your own personal physician before beginning any prescription medications, natural supplement, or treatment program, especially if you are pregnant or nursing.

Text & Perfect-7 Protocol © 2008 Dr. David A. Jernigan and Hansa Center for Optimum Health Inc. www.hansacenter.com